

September 2015

The Word of God NEWSLETTER

an ecumenical charismatic missionary
Christian
Community

What is the best description of the 2015 Pine Hills Girls Camp?

Beautiful!

By Abby Randolph

*You are altogether beautiful, my love,
beautiful in every way*

Song of Songs 4:7

In a world where we're told that beauty is looking a certain way and being a certain way, believing that we're beautiful when we look in the mirror can seem like an impossible task. But the world is wrong—so, so wrong. And at Pine Hills Girls Camp this year, we had a theme that helped us realize how God sees us and that taught us how to combat the lies of the devil and the world. Our theme was, Beautiful. It is a simple word, but one that carries so much meaning.

A new perspective on Camp

At camp this year I had the incredible privilege to be a first time counselor. In this role I had the opportunity to watch the girls encounter the Lord, some of them for the very first time. In a whole new way, I was able to observe them as they learned and realized that they are beautiful just by being who they are.

We were all reminded that we are beautiful, even in our littleness, our brokenness, and our sin. I saw the Lord move in my life and in the lives of my sisters around me. And with that movement, came the renewed grace and freedom to take what we learned out into the world—back into our friendships, our families, and schools.

For one week, we live and love with 250 amazing and beautiful women of God who are walking down the same path and striving for the same thing. Camp is a place where a hug and an affirmation are never too far away. It is a place where prayer, both personal and communal, is built right into the daily schedule. Pine Hills is a place with more love and beauty than any other place in the world and the end of the week always comes way too soon.

But we can't stay in an easy place forever; things have to get a little uncomfortable in order for us to grow. And after 30 years of Pine Hills, many, many women have grown because of this camp. They have grown by going out into the real world and living out the mission they've been given, and by embracing ourselves for who we are, exactly who God made us to be. I can say that for myself too, because after this year I've come away from camp believing with my whole heart that I am beautiful just as I am, because God made me and loved me into being, and that is enough. ■

Abby Randolph knows Camp well. She attended Pine Hills Camp as a camper, was a former member of the service team and senior service team,

and was a first-time counselor this year.

She saw firsthand how the Camp theme of 'Beautiful' impacted the girls (and herself), being strengthened knowing that because of Jesus, they are beautiful in God's sight.

INSIDE

Pine Hills Girls
Camp

Pine Hills Boys
Camp

Life Remodeled

Service at Cultivate

Fall Retreat

And more...

Seems to me ...

Just run...

Therefore, since we are surrounded by such a great cloud of witnesses, let us throw off everything that hinders and the sin that so easily entangles, and let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us.

Hebrews 12:1

I don't really enjoy running. I used to run a lot in connection with playing some game, but running for its own sake has never appealed to me. Now that I have given up basketball, however, I am reduced to running for strictly medicinal purposes. In fact, I probably wouldn't do that if it wasn't for my two dogs looking at me with their big, sad spaniel eyes in the morning begging me to take them out.

However, the topic of running came up recently when I was talking with a brother who is a former Marine, or I guess I should say and inactive Marine because once a Marine always a Marine, as I understand it. He is helping a young man get ready to head off to boot camp and as part of the regime, they go running.

It turns out that when the Marines go for a run, no one tells them how far they are going or how long they will be running. They just run. There is no counting down the mileage or checking your watch. You just run.

As I understand it, there are at least two things behind this approach. The first is to instill trust in your leader. He is the only one who knows the plan and he is taking into account what you need and what you are capable of. You might need more than you want and find that you are capable of more than you expect under his leadership. Secondly, Marines are training for combat, not the 1500 meters or even a marathon. In combat there is no tape marking the end or clock saying the time is up. You have to keep going until the combat is over. You just run.

&

This got me to thinking. I believe this is what Paul is talking about when he says 'let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us'. Jesus knows the race he has marked out for us, we don't. Our place is to 'fix our eyes on Jesus'. He not only knows the race, but he has run it for us. We draw our strength from him, and from the 'cloud of witnesses', brothers and sisters in Jesus who are also running with us.

My tendency is to look for the finish line, or to start watching the clock. Like the Bridegroom in the Song of Songs, Jesus is saying to us, 'Come run with me'. Not to somewhere or for so long. We look to him and just run.

■ PLB

2015 Pine Hills Boys Camp

Grace Lived

By Pete Burak

"Let us therefore approach the throne of grace with boldness, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help in time of need."

Hebrews 4:16

What is grace? How do we receive it? What difference does it make? How do I ask for more? Over the course of a week in mid-June, 125 campers and 60 staff sought answers to these questions at Pine Hills Boys Camp 2015. I'm happy to report that our earnest seeking of the Lord did not go unanswered!

Each day as we gathered for prayer in the mornings and especially during the longer prayer meetings on Tuesday and Thursday night, Jesus revealed His love for us and poured out His Spirit upon us. This year's theme focused on the important role of grace in our lives as young disciples. The boys dove in headfirst as they were led by Spirit-filled worship and preaching. Every year, the boys' number one highlight remains our prayer times because God shows up in a big way!

As we went through the week, my heart continued to burn with gratitude to the Lord for this camp and His constant presence with us. He truly smiles on us as we jump in the lake for Bear Clubs, workout at Milk and Cookies, refresh ourselves at meal times, battle each other during Conquest, and run all over camp with Capture the Flag. Rain or shine the boys clearly enjoyed all of the various activities.

I was also incredibly impressed with our staff this year. Before camp we decided we wanted to be defined by Joy, Service, and Humility and throughout the week I saw each of those virtues on full display. So much of camp's success depends on these older guys' tireless sacrifice for the boys.

Thank you for all your prayers and support over the years! The Lord continues to use Pine Hills Boys Camp as an instrument for conversion and ongoing discipleship. Please pray for the boys as the move towards the new school year, that the grace they received may remain and bear much fruit. It was a good year. ■

Pine Hills Boys Camp is a great opportunity for the grace of God to be lived, by staff and campers, helping everyone to experience Jesus' presence.

You are altogether beautiful, my love...

When the reality of how deeply God loves us in His Son Jesus grips our hearts, it makes our lives sing — not just for a week at camp, but for all our days. That lasting fruit is seen in the lives of the women at Pine Hills Girls Camp as former campers come back to serve year after year, taking time from work and families to pour into another generation of girls.

I find that it is helpful to restate familiar scripture in different words. It prevents me from glossing over profound truths because I have heard them so often. Recently, I re-prayed a favorite psalm in this way. Any resemblance to Ps. 23 is not coincidental!

Father,

What an adventure life is with you as my tour guide...

You've made such comprehensive arrangements for accommodations, food, daily activities, and marvelous relationships.

When I think about it, I realize you've already been down every path my seemingly random life takes me; thus I can really relax and refuse the burden of self-reliance. Ah! How life-giving!

Even when things look completely out of control and the result of evil designs, I know that if I stay real close to you, you'll defeat my foes for me and I'll make it through unscathed: faith intact.

Though my enemies lurk nearby, you invite me to dine and dance, to laugh and sing in your shadow-shattering presence.

When I view my life through your God-breathed perspective, it infuses me with such faith that I just know my life will consist of an acceleration of joy as you reveal more and yet more of your goodness and continue to mercifully forgive my many mess-ups as long as I live.

'Come, everything is now ready ... '

... the Kingdom of God is like a banquet...

Whenever we sit down to a meal as a community I am reminded of all the meals Jesus eats in the Gospels and all the stories he tells which involve banquets. There is a relational significance to sharing food together, especially when everyone is contributing something to make up the feast. Because of this, our annual picnic in August was more than just a good way to close out the summer. It was a taste of the Kingdom.

Thanksgiving and worship gave way to the serious business of grilling, requiring close supervision by multiple advisors.

Adding to the Kingdom feel, in addition to community members we were joined by extended family and friends, and some folks we met in the park that afternoon who joined us for the meal and play on the park equipment, and some great conversation.

Don't miss the opportunity the next time the King invites you to a banquet!

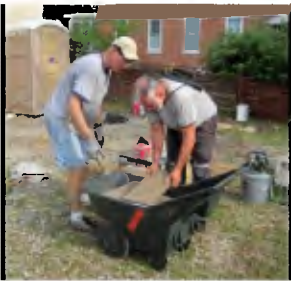

July Service Day
Cultivating Partnerships

Leading by example, Marilyn Geyer cheerfully worked with multiple shovels during our Service Day at Cultivate Coffee and Tap House. She even brought a neighbor to help us as we came alongside this business with a mission to impact hunger relief locally and globally.

A new coffee & tap room will be opening in Ypsilanti's Depot Town soon. It is a business with a difference! 'Cultivate ... exists to partner with the people of Ypsilanti in providing sustainable solutions for hunger relief through local and global gardening programs', to quote their mission statement. Started by folks from Grace Church in Ann Arbor, it is bringing together lots of folks, Christians and people of peace, to express a bit of Kingdom life in Depot Town.

In July we invested our Community Service Event is supporting this effort. Folks gardened, moved a shed, did general work — and enjoyed a great time of fellowship in the process! We capped off the time with a meal, following the example of Jesus and the disciples who always seem to be eating in the Gospels.

Billy Kangas is heading up the coffee side of the business, so we will have an ongoing connection with Cultivate. Pray for this endeavor to be salt and light — and stop by for a coffee or beer when you are in Ypsi. Check them out at 307 N. River Street.

Restoring Detroit 1 neighborhood at a time
LifeRemodeled 2015

Phil Tiews, Todd Hillaker, Jimmy & Sean Varblow joined 1000's of other volunteers to help renovate the Osborn High neighborhood as part of Life Remodeled 2015 in August.

Looking at the devastation in Detroit can be very discouraging. The population is about 2/3's of the maximum of over a million and there are thousands of abandoned homes and commercial buildings. But God still loves Detroit and one of the many groups that he has inspired to work for its restoration is LifeRemodeled. This ministry brings together a coalition of hundreds of churches and many businesses to renovate the city one neighborhood at a time.

Volunteers cleaned up trash, mowed lawns and cut back bushes at abandoned homes to beautify the 4 square miles around Osborn and make safe passageways for kids going to school.

For three years now they have targeted a high school and the several square miles around it for their attention. This year it was Osborn High's turn.

During the course of the week 12,000 volunteer-days resulted in 21 remodeled homes, 472 abandoned homes being boarded up, 302 blocks being beautified, and a new roof, cafeteria, library and gym for the high school!

This was the first year we've had any involvement, but we sent a small and enthusiastic team of Todd Hillaker, Sean & Jimmy Varblow and Phil Tiews to join with folks from all over Southeast Michigan, including many from right in the neighborhood where we were working. The team worked hard but had a great time. Next year we will hopefully bring a larger crew.

For more information on LifeRemodeled you can go to their website and you can see a short video about this year's project at <https://vimeo.com/136561223>.

Hearing God in Conversation:

Growing in the divine dialog

Led by Sam Williamson

Fri. October 2, 7:30–9:30 pm

Sat. October 3, 8:30 am – 8:30 pm

@ Covenant Community Church

5171 Jackson Road, Ann Arbor

Sam has very helpful and encouraging insights into growing and maintaining a conversational relationship with God. He has put these into a new book which is getting excellent pre-publication reviews and for the first time is presenting them in a retreat setting. There will be talks, of course, but also plenty of time for conversation with the Lord, and with one another as we support each other in our interactive walk with Jesus.

The retreat will be refreshing for veterans of prayer, but also great for new believers, or those who are just beginning to ask whether God really speaks with those who seek him. Bring your friends!

Registration Form

Cut out and use this form, mailing in your check or go online at www.thewordofGodcommunity.org to register and pay electronically.

Names of all attending (list kids' ages) _____

Address _____

Phone _____

Cell _____

Email _____

Special needs:

Scholarship Help will be available. Students rates are for ages 14–22
Youth under 14 are free.

Retreat & Meal Plans	Adult Fee	#	Student Fee	#	Sub Total
1. Retreat + 2 Sat meals: Lunch & dinner	$40		$20
Free Breakfast—how many?	Free		Free
2. Retreat + Sat Lunch	$30		$15
3. Retreat + Sat Dinner	$30		$15
4. Retreat + no Sat meals	$20		Free
5. Friday Night Only	$10		Free
6. Saturday Dinner Only	$15		$5

Make checks to

The Word of God
3800 Packard, Ste. 260
Ann Arbor, MI 48108

Total
Amount

The Word of God
3800 Packard Rd., Ste.260
Ann Arbor, MI 48108-2073

NON-PROFIT ORG.
U.S. POSTAGE
PAID
PERMIT NO. 42
ANN ARBOR, MI

Return Service Requested

Women's Breakfast

October 10th
9:00-10:30 am

@ The Word of God Office
3800 Packard, Suite 260

All are welcome, bring a friend!

Join us!

- 9/27 Prayer Meeting, 4:30–6 pm
Covenant Community Church
5171 Jackson Road
- 10/2-3 Fall Retreat—see details p. 7
- 10/11 Prayer Meeting, 4:30–6 pm
Covenant Community Church
5171 Jackson Road
- 10/25 Prayer Meeting, 4:30–6 pm
Covenant Community Church
5171 Jackson Road

See full calendar at our website
www.thewordofGodcommunity.org

September 2015

The Word of God NEWSLETTER

an ecumenical charismatic missionary
Christian
Community

What is the best description of the 2015 Pine Hills Girls Camp?

Beautiful!

By Abby Randolph

*You are altogether beautiful, my love,
beautiful in every way*

Song of Songs 4:7

In a world where we're told that beauty is looking a certain way and being a certain way, believing that we're beautiful when we look in the mirror can seem like an impossible task. But the world is wrong—so, so wrong. And at Pine Hills Girls Camp this year, we had a theme that helped us realize how God sees us and that taught us how to combat the lies of the devil and the world. Our theme was, Beautiful. It is a simple word, but one that carries so much meaning.

A new perspective on Camp

At camp this year I had the incredible privilege to be a first time counselor. In this role I had the opportunity to watch the girls encounter the Lord, some of them for the very first time. In a whole new way, I was able to observe them as they learned and realized that they are beautiful just by being who they are.

We were all reminded that we are beautiful, even in our littleness, our brokenness, and our sin. I saw the Lord move in my life and in the lives of my sisters around me. And with that movement, came the renewed grace and freedom to take what we learned out into the world—back into our friendships, our families, and schools.

For one week, we live and love with 250 amazing and beautiful women of God who are walking down the same path and striving for the same thing. Camp is a place where a hug and an affirmation are never too far away. It is a place where prayer, both personal and communal, is built right into the daily schedule. Pine Hills is a place with more love and beauty than any other place in the world and the end of the week always comes way too soon.

But we can't stay in an easy place forever; things have to get a little uncomfortable in order for us to grow. And after 30 years of Pine Hills, many, many women have grown because of this camp. They have grown by going out into the real world and living out the mission they've been given, and by embracing ourselves for who we are, exactly who God made us to be. I can say that for myself too, because after this year I've come away from camp believing with my whole heart that I am beautiful just as I am, because God made me and loved me into being, and that is enough. ■

Abby Randolph knows Camp well. She attended Pine Hills Camp as a camper, was a former member of the service team and senior service team,

and was a first-time counselor this year.

She saw firsthand how the Camp theme of 'Beautiful' impacted the girls (and herself), being strengthened knowing that because of Jesus, they are beautiful in God's sight.

INSIDE

Pine Hills Girls
Camp

Pine Hills Boys
Camp

Life Remodeled

Service at Cultivate

Fall Retreat

And more...

Seems to me ...

Just run...

Therefore, since we are surrounded by such a great cloud of witnesses, let us throw off everything that hinders and the sin that so easily entangles, and let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us.

Hebrews 12:1

I don't really enjoy running. I used to run a lot in connection with playing some game, but running for its own sake has never appealed to me. Now that I have given up basketball, however, I am reduced to running for strictly medicinal purposes. In fact, I probably wouldn't do that if it wasn't for my two dogs looking at me with their big, sad spaniel eyes in the morning begging me to take them out.

However, the topic of running came up recently when I was talking with a brother who is a former Marine, or I guess I should say and inactive Marine because once a Marine always a Marine, as I understand it. He is helping a young man get ready to head off to boot camp and as part of the regime, they go running.

It turns out that when the Marines go for a run, no one tells them how far they are going or how long they will be running. They just run. There is no counting down the mileage or checking your watch. You just run.

As I understand it, there are at least two things behind this approach. The first is to instill trust in your leader. He is the only one who knows the plan and he is taking into account what you need and what you are capable of. You might need more than you want and find that you are capable of more than you expect under his leadership. Secondly, Marines are training for combat, not the 1500 meters or even a marathon. In combat there is no tape marking the end or clock saying the time is up. You have to keep going until the combat is over. You just run.

&

This got me to thinking. I believe this is what Paul is talking about when he says 'let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us'. Jesus knows the race he has marked out for us, we don't. Our place is to 'fix our eyes on Jesus'. He not only knows the race, but he has run it for us. We draw our strength from him, and from the 'cloud of witnesses', brothers and sisters in Jesus who are also running with us.

My tendency is to look for the finish line, or to start watching the clock. Like the Bridegroom in the Song of Songs, Jesus is saying to us, 'Come run with me'. Not to somewhere or for so long. We look to him and just run.

2015 Pine Hills Boys Camp

Grace Lived

By Pete Burak

"Let us therefore approach the throne of grace with boldness, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help in time of need."

Hebrews 4:16

What is grace? How do we receive it? What difference does it make? How do I ask for more? Over the course of a week in mid-June, 125 campers and 60 staff sought answers to these questions at Pine Hills Boys Camp 2015. I'm happy to report that our earnest seeking of the Lord did not go unanswered!

Each day as we gathered for prayer in the mornings and especially during the longer prayer meetings on Tuesday and Thursday night, Jesus revealed His love for us and poured out His Spirit upon us. This year's theme focused on the important role of grace in our lives as young disciples. The boys dove in headfirst as they were led by Spirit-filled worship and preaching. Every year, the boys' number one highlight remains our prayer times because God shows up in a big way!

As we went through the week, my heart continued to burn with gratitude to the Lord for this camp and His constant presence with us. He truly smiles on us as we jump in the lake for Bear Clubs, workout at Milk and Cookies, refresh ourselves at meal times, battle each other during Conquest, and run all over camp with Capture the Flag. Rain or shine the boys clearly enjoyed all of the various activities.

I was also incredibly impressed with our staff this year. Before camp we decided we wanted to be defined by Joy, Service, and Humility and throughout the week I saw each of those virtues on full display. So much of camp's success depends on these older guys' tireless sacrifice for the boys.

Thank you for all your prayers and support over the years! The Lord continues to use Pine Hills Boys Camp as an instrument for conversion and ongoing discipleship. Please pray for the boys as the move towards the new school year, that the grace they received may remain and bear much fruit. It was a good year. ■

Pine Hills Boys Camp is a great opportunity for the grace of God to be lived, by staff and campers, helping everyone to experience Jesus' presence.

You are altogether beautiful, my love...

When the reality of how deeply God loves us in His Son Jesus grips our hearts, it makes our lives sing — not just for a week at camp, but for all our days. That lasting fruit is seen in the lives of the women at Pine Hills Girls Camp as former campers come back to serve year after year, taking time from work and families to pour into another generation of girls.

I find that it is helpful to restate familiar scripture in different words. It prevents me from glossing over profound truths because I have heard them so often. Recently, I re-prayed a favorite psalm in this way. Any resemblance to Ps. 23 is not coincidental!

Father,

What an adventure life is with you as my tour guide...

You've made such comprehensive arrangements for accommodations, food, daily activities, and marvelous relationships.

When I think about it, I realize you've already been down every path my seemingly random life takes me; thus I can really relax and refuse the burden of self-reliance. Ah! How life-giving!

Even when things look completely out of control and the result of evil designs, I know that if I stay real close to you, you'll defeat my foes for me and I'll make it through unscathed: faith intact.

Though my enemies lurk nearby, you invite me to dine and dance, to laugh and sing in your shadow-shattering presence.

When I view my life through your God-breathed perspective, it infuses me with such faith that I just know my life will consist of an acceleration of joy as you reveal more and yet more of your goodness and continue to mercifully forgive my many mess-ups as long as I live.

'Come, everything is now ready ... '

... the Kingdom of God is like a banquet...

Whenever we sit down to a meal as a community I am reminded of all the meals Jesus eats in the Gospels and all the stories he tells which involve banquets. There is a relational significance to sharing food together, especially when everyone is contributing something to make up the feast. Because of this, our annual picnic in August was more than just a good way to close out the summer. It was a taste of the Kingdom.

Thanksgiving and worship gave way to the serious business of grilling, requiring close supervision by multiple advisors.

Adding to the Kingdom feel, in addition to community members we were joined by extended family and friends, and some folks we met in the park that afternoon who joined us for the meal and play on the park equipment, and some great conversation.

Don't miss the opportunity the next time the King invites you to a banquet!

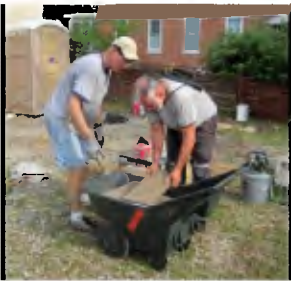

July Service Day
Cultivating Partnerships

Leading by example, Marilyn Geyer cheerfully worked with multiple shovels during our Service Day at Cultivate Coffee and Tap House. She even brought a neighbor to help us as we came alongside this business with a mission to impact hunger relief locally and globally.

A new coffee & tap room will be opening in Ypsilanti's Depot Town soon. It is a business with a difference! 'Cultivate ... exists to partner with the people of Ypsilanti in providing sustainable solutions for hunger relief through local and global gardening programs', to quote their mission statement. Started by folks from Grace Church in Ann Arbor, it is bringing together lots of folks, Christians and people of peace, to express a bit of Kingdom life in Depot Town.

In July we invested our Community Service Event is supporting this effort. Folks gardened, moved a shed, did general work — and enjoyed a great time of fellowship in the process! We capped off the time with a meal, following the example of Jesus and the disciples who always seem to be eating in the Gospels.

Billy Kangas is heading up the coffee side of the business, so we will have an ongoing connection with Cultivate. Pray for this endeavor to be salt and light — and stop by for a coffee or beer when you are in Ypsi. Check them out at 307 N. River Street.

Restoring Detroit 1 neighborhood at a time
LifeRemodeled 2015

Phil Tiews, Todd Hillaker, Jimmy & Sean Varblow joined 1000's of other volunteers to help renovate the Osborn High neighborhood as part of Life Remodeled 2015 in August.

Looking at the devastation in Detroit can be very discouraging. The population is about 2/3's of the maximum of over a million and there are thousands of abandoned homes and commercial buildings. But God still loves Detroit and one of the many groups that he has inspired to work for its restoration is LifeRemodeled. This ministry brings together a coalition of hundreds of churches and many businesses to renovate the city one neighborhood at a time.

Volunteers cleaned up trash, mowed lawns and cut back bushes at abandoned homes to beautify the 4 square miles around Osborn and make safe passageways for kids going to school.

For three years now they have targeted a high school and the several square miles around it for their attention. This year it was Osborn High's turn.

During the course of the week 12,000 volunteer-days resulted in 21 remodeled homes, 472 abandoned homes being boarded up, 302 blocks being beautified, and a new roof, cafeteria, library and gym for the high school!

This was the first year we've had any involvement, but we sent a small and enthusiastic team of Todd Hillaker, Sean & Jimmy Varblow and Phil Tiews to join with folks from all over Southeast Michigan, including many from right in the neighborhood where we were working. The team worked hard but had a great time. Next year we will hopefully bring a larger crew.

For more information on LifeRemodeled you can go to their website and you can see a short video about this year's project at <https://vimeo.com/136561223>.

Hearing God in Conversation:

Growing in the divine dialog

Led by Sam Williamson

Fri. October 2, 7:30–9:30 pm

Sat. October 3, 8:30 am – 8:30 pm

@ Covenant Community Church

5171 Jackson Road, Ann Arbor

Sam has very helpful and encouraging insights into growing and maintaining a conversational relationship with God. He has put these into a new book which is getting excellent pre-publication reviews and for the first time is presenting them in a retreat setting. There will be talks, of course, but also plenty of time for conversation with the Lord, and with one another as we support each other in our interactive walk with Jesus.

The retreat will be refreshing for veterans of prayer, but also great for new believers, or those who are just beginning to ask whether God really speaks with those who seek him. Bring your friends!

Registration Form

Cut out and use this form, mailing in your check or go online at www.thewordofGodcommunity.org to register and pay electronically.

Names of all attending (list kids' ages) _____

Address _____

Phone _____

Cell _____

Email _____

Special needs:

Scholarship Help will be available. Students rates are for ages 14–22
Youth under 14 are free.

Retreat & Meal Plans	Adult Fee	#	Student Fee	#	Sub Total
1. Retreat + 2 Sat meals: Lunch & dinner	$40		$20
Free Breakfast—how many?	Free		Free
2. Retreat + Sat Lunch	$30		$15
3. Retreat + Sat Dinner	$30		$15
4. Retreat + no Sat meals	$20		Free
5. Friday Night Only	$10		Free
6. Saturday Dinner Only	$15		$5

Make checks to

The Word of God
3800 Packard, Ste. 260
Ann Arbor, MI 48108

Total
Amount

The Word of God
3800 Packard Rd., Ste.260
Ann Arbor, MI 48108-2073

NON-PROFIT ORG.
U.S. POSTAGE
PAID
PERMIT NO. 42
ANN ARBOR, MI

Return Service Requested

Women's Breakfast

October 10th
9:00-10:30 am

@ The Word of God Office
3800 Packard, Suite 260

All are welcome, bring a friend!

Join us!

- 9/27 Prayer Meeting, 4:30–6 pm
Covenant Community Church
5171 Jackson Road
- 10/2-3 Fall Retreat—see details p. 7
- 10/11 Prayer Meeting, 4:30–6 pm
Covenant Community Church
5171 Jackson Road
- 10/25 Prayer Meeting, 4:30–6 pm
Covenant Community Church
5171 Jackson Road

See full calendar at our website
www.thewordofGodcommunity.org